

"Dick Whittington" Coming to Greenbelt

The Clare Tree Major children's theater of New York is presenting a performance of "Dick Whittington and His Cat" on November 30, at 3:30 p.m. at the Greenbelt theater, according to theater manager Jack Eskridge. Tickets are on sale at the box office of the Greenbelt theater through November 29. The local production is under the auspices of the College Park branch of the American Association of University Women.

According to a release from the theater headquarters in Pleasantville, New York, the play is built on the popular legend which grew up around Sir Richard Whittington, four time Lord Mayor of London. The intention of all Clare Tree Major Productions, it added, is that children receive a "liberal helping of knowledge of the world they live in." In this play, emphasis is on fourteenth century England and its background. Featured performer in "Dick Whittington" is Nebuchadnezzar, a famous cat who is one of several animals in the theater's six companies.

The Children's Theater is a strictly non-commercial organization, operating under a nonprofit-making membership charter granted by the state of New York. Its performances are sponsored throughout the United States and Canada by civic organizations whose object is to bring wholesome entertainment to the young people in their respective localities.

P.G. Orchestra Gives Varied Program

By Aimee Slye

It is unfortunate that so few people took advantage of the opportunity of attending a fine orchestra performance last Sunday night in the Center school auditorium.

The Prince Georges County Symphony Orchestra, David Burchuk, Conductor, presented an interesting and varied program, opening with Mozart's II Pastore Re Overture, and followed by the Symphony in F by Dittersdorf. Three seventeenth century Dutch tunes, arranged by the late Hans Kindler, concluded the first part of the program.

The first number following intermission was the majestic hymn, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," arranged by Cailliet. Schubert's Ballet Suite for Rosamunda was followed by the Ballet Suite from Swan Lake by Tchaikowsky. The concluding number, "March of Tomorrow" from Symphonie Miniature, was composed by George F. McKay, an American composer. As an encore the third movement from the same Symphonie was graciously played by the Orchestra.

The orchestra is composed of residents of Greenbelt and Prince Georges County and on Sunday was augmented by members of the Washington Civic Orchestra of which Mr. Burchuk is assistant director. Also playing in the orchestra on Sunday were Frank Sykora, cellist, who is director of the University of Maryland orchestra and band, and Gordon Finlay, cornetist, of the Navy orchestra. Accompanist was Mrs. Marian Moore.

Decorating Class To See Movie

For the eighth interior decorating class in the adult education program, November 30, a sound movie "We Decorate Our Homes" will be shown. A representative of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will talk on paints and color dynamics.

The class meets in room 224 of the community building at 8 p.m. Anyone interested is welcome.

Corcoran Shows Art Of 4 Greenbelters

Four Greenbelt artists are represented in the current "Artists of Washington and Vicinity" exhibit at the Corcoran Gallery in Washington. The show contains nearly 2200 works of art, chosen from over 1400 entries.

Benjamin Abramowitz, 3-L Eastway, is represented by two paintings, and Sophia Corwin, 7-N Research; Isadore Parker, 45-J Ridge; and Isidore Reuben, 4-D Crescent, have one each on exhibit.

Abramowitz, well-known in the Washington area for his work in oils and pen and ink, at present teaches painting at the Washington Workshop Cooperative. He had a one-man show at the Barnett Aden Gallery last year, and his paintings have been included in many group shows in Washington.

Mrs. Corwin has studied painting for many years. Her painting in the Corcoran show is an abstract still life, the only one of the four painted in that style.

The painting by Parker is his initial appearance in an art exhibit, although he has studied and maintained a continuous interest in the subject.

Attracting intense attention from the show spectators is the entry of Isidore Reuben. His still life, entitled "Flowers amid Dots," was executed with the use of a heavy impasto, making several flowers stand out in relief. The temptation to touch the canvas appeared irresistible to the viewers. Reuben, who has been painting for several years, was represented in the Corcoran's "Artists of Washington and Vicinity" exhibit last year.

The show will be on exhibit for another month.

GCS Sales Soar

Greenbelt Consumer Services' sales reached a new high of $172,987 for the last four weeks, according to the general manager's report at the GCS board of directors meeting last Friday night. This amount is an increase of 25% over the same period last year, and the estimated net savings for this period is $4817 or 2.8% of gross sales.

Also at this meeting the board approved the appointment of Ruth Hill as new manager for the beauty shop. The board authorized general manager Sam Ashelman to obtain the services of Morris Mitchell, executive secretary of the Southeastern Cooperative League, to do promotional work and to direct an employee training program in Greenbelt.

The board of directors of GCS attended a meeting of Eastern Cooperative, Inc. in New York on Sunday, October 30. Walter Bierwagen, GCS board president, reported that progress was being made on a plan for the reorganization of ECI.

The board decided to discuss the bus situation at its regular meeting next Friday, because the bus is operating at a loss. Tentative plans are to call a meeting of people who need and use the bus to consider either curtailing the service or raising the fare.

League of Nations Team Meet Locals

The undefeated Greenbelt Boys' Club senior football team will entertain the strong League of Nations Boys' Club of Washington this Sunday afternoon at Braden Field in the first meeting of the two clubs.

The opponents' roster includes boys of nine different nationalities. Kickoff is at 2:30.

GVHC Will Elect Board December 9

A board of directors will be elected to Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation at a membership meeting tentatively called for December 9, according to GVHC Secretary Bruce Bowman. Present members of the board are Mike Salzman, president; James Walsh, vice president; Bowman; Henry Pearlman, treasurer; and Benjamin Goldfaden, Rabbi Morris Sandhaus, and Rev. Eric T. Braund.

All seven members, with the exception of Sandhaus and Braund, are also members of the board of directors of the Greenbelt Mutual Home Ownership Corporation, which was elected at a regular GMHOC meeting in March. In addition, the GMHOC board has as members Thomas B. Ritchie, Wells Harrington, Paul Borsky, and Sherrod East.

Also planned for the December 8 meeting, according to Bowman, are reports from the officers of GVHC.

Use Service or Else Says Capital Transit

Capital Transit Company, public transportation utility, last week sent Greenbelt residents a letter urging greater participation in the advantages offered by riding its buses and street-cars.

Explaining that public transit is convenient, economical, and safe, the letter said that the service it now offers Greenbelt is financially unsound from the utility's point-of-view, and implied that greater patronage will be needed to keep the Greenbelt service in operation.

Greenbelt's riding-pool habit, formed during the early days of the war and greatly expanded when Capital Transit increased its fares and lowered its service approximately two years ago, was the apparent target of the implied threat.

Commuters from Greenbelt to downtown Washington are now provided a bus every 20 minutes during rush hours to the Branchville line, less frequently during off hours. Average travelling time during rush hours is an hour and a quarter to such central locations as 14th and G Sts., N.W., with a straight cash fare of 38 cents one way. (Purchase of three D. C. tokens for 35 cents reduces this to 37 cents.)

County PTA Council Meets Here Dec. 1

The second regular meeting of the Prince Georges County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will be held on Thursday, December 1, at the Greenbelt Center school at 8 p.m., with registration beginning at 7:30 p.m.

G. Gardner Shugart, superintendent of Prince Georges County Schools, will discuss "The Procedures of Preparing the School Budget."

This announcement was made by Wesley Darling, president of the County PTA Council, at a meeting of the executive committee held November 10 at the residence of Mrs. R. O. Stelzer in University Park. Mr. Darling was elected president to fill the vacancy left by Carroll F. Palmer who resigned recently when he moved to Montgomery County from his home in Bladensburg.

All PTA organizations are urged to have their delegates attend this meeting, and the public is invited.

'50 Tax Rate 10c Over '49; Public Hearing Set December 12

By Carolyn R. Miller

Greenbelt's tax rate will be $3.2556 per $100 assessed valuation in 1950, $1.061 higher than 1949, if the budget presented Monday night to the city council by Manager Charles T. McDonald is adopted without change.

With disposition of the city expected in the near future, the tax rate may become a more urgent matter to residents than at present. In effect, the city tax is a "hidden tax," as it is included in the rent.

In this connection, Mayor Betty Harrington reminded the council that when Public Housing Administration raised Greenbelt rents last spring, their stated reason was to make rents comparable to similar housing in the area. They made no reference to the size of the city budget or the city tax rate. (PHA pays a sum each year to the city in lieu of taxes.)

Boost in Budget

The tentative budget total is $225,683.72, an increase of $12,071.77 over this year. Payment from PHA in lieu of taxes, if the budget is not cut or increased by the council, will be requested in the amount of $182,634, an increase of $7,634.87 over 1949.

Items which put the 1950 budget over 1949's include increases in administrative, insurance and retirement costs; accumulated-leave liability; a higher amount for sidewalks and parks; restoration of the music allocation to the level requested last year, but reduced by PHA; and a change from a part-time to a full-time position in the manager's office.

Hearing Dec. 12

The budget calendar as adopted by the council follows: discussion at the regular meeting of December 5; open hearing on the budget, December 12; final approval for submission to PHA, regular meeting December 19.

PHA Community Manager Walter Simon will be invited to confer with McDonald before the hearing, to which he will also be invited.

Difficulty in comparing the proposed budget with the 1949 figures was noted in that the uniform system of municipal accounting prescribed by the State has been followed. McDonald's message accompanying the budget, which will be formally presented at the December 5 meeting, is expected to help all concerned in making the comparison.

Councilman Thomas J. Canning expressed regret that the budget could not be lower in view of the tax rate, stating that future (maybe near future) home owners here will be discouraged, to say the least. It was pointed out that a reassessment of the property and any increase in buildings will bring the tax rate down.

Powers Sworn In

Sworn in as city solicitor early in the meeting, Ralph W. Powers (town solicitor in 1941-42) said that he was delighted to be associated with Greenbelt again. "My interest in the community has continued since my service in the Legislature

Last Weekend For Clothing Drive

St. Hugh's parishioners are reminded that only the Thanksgiving weekend remains to contribute to the National Catholic Welfare Conference's annual clothing drive for overseas relief. Clothing of all kinds is needed, with special emphasis on wearable and practical shoes.

Donations may be brought to St. Hugh's school any time this week. Pick-ups can be made, when necessary, by calling Mrs. Arthur Cusick at Greenbelt 3777 for information. Closing date for collections and pick-ups is Sunday night.

at the time the charter was passed," he said.

Mayor Harrington asked him to look further into the reason for the exclusion of Greenbelt from the State law covering establishing of municipal housing authorities. "While it cannot be said that there is a demand for a local housing authority, we would like to explore all possibilities. If a municipal housing authority should prove to be desirable, we would not want to be blocked by the state law," she said.

Greenbelt Exclusion

Mr. Powers said that as he remembered the situation, provision for a Greenbelt housing authority was excluded from the general bill in 1937 because of a possible conflict with the town charter which was passed at the same session. Reminded by the mayor that a clause permitting a housing authority had been contained in the original charter, he said he thought the Federal Government people interested in Greenbelt asked the Governor to veto that clause and he did. The solicitor agreed to refer to his files for more complete information.

Report on Conference

The meeting also included a report on the Maryland League of Municipalities conference attended by the city manager, the mayor, and Councilman Steve Comings. McDonald told the council, among other things, of the high praise bestowed on Greenbelt's police department in an address by Major Ruxton M. Ridgely of the Maryland State Police. It was the only city specifically mentioned in any of the speeches. The mayor also referred to our "lady mayor" but quickly added that the efficiency of the department could not be credited to her! (If it keeps up, we don't see why not.)

The letter to all Greenbelters from Capital Transit was brought to the council's attention by Mrs. Thomas Ritchie. It was learned that McDonald is studying the transportation problem and will report in the near future.

An invitation from the Riverdale Heights Citizens Association to discuss the widening of Edmonston Road was accepted; Councilman Frank Lastner and the city manager agreed to attend.

Berwyn Democrats Dance December 2

The 21st District Democratic Club, Berwyn, Md., will hold a dance for its members and their guests on Friday, December 2, at 10 p.m. at the Berwyn Rod and Gun Club, located approximately one mile west of the Baltimore Boulevard at the Muirkirk overpass.

Dance music will be furnished by Vickers' band from Annapolis, Md. A spot dance will be a feature of the program, with some lucky couple receiving a valuable prize.

Guests will be entertained by the Harmony Trio, Phyllis Kirkpatrick, Edith and Frank Shegogue. George "Mit" Jones and his Barber Shop Quartet will render several selections.

Tickets may be obtained at the door, and the public is cordially invited to attend this gala affair.

High School High Spots

The Junior Red Cross drive at the high school was very successful this year. The student body turned in a total of $47.50, and 19 gift boxes for children overseas.

Battle Over - War On

Capital Transit's letter to Greenbelters last week certainly indicates that one of the battles in the giant transportation utility's constant war against its Greenbelt patrons is over, and another about to begin. Victors in the first skirmish are decidedly The People. After all, we aren't writing them letters telling them how wonderful we are if they'd only try us!

It's a thrilling—and rare—experience to see Power recognize People. Greenbelters, justifiably angry at a huge rate increase coupled with a decrease in service, decided to find more convenient and economical means of commuting. The Cooperator, in an effort to expand the car-pool program, offered free advertising space to those wanting or offering a ride. In the two years that have passed since that time, the number of people forced to commute via public transit has dwindled to a highly unsatisfactory number, from Capital Transit's standpoint. (Since the staff continues to oppose the public-be-damned attitude of the "public utility," notices of rides or riders wanted will again be received by telephone.)

Washingtonians, sick of having the transit monopoly's high rates, poor service, and enforced music-listening shoved down their throats, should take a leaf from the Greenbelt book. For while Capital Transit can threaten us with abandonment of the meager service still left us, we doubt if those tactics would succeed with the thousands of riders in the whole area.

To The Editor

THANKS FROM JCC

I want to thank the people of Greenbelt who patronized the bazaar and rummage sale held by the Jewish Community Center and made it a success.

Mr. McDonald has our sincere appreciation for having suggested and allowed us the use of the swimming pool lobby. It was a wonderful spot even though we almost froze to death. We certainly can't thank the weather man.

We were happy to have disposed of what was left over by giving the shoes, both old and new, to St. Hugh's Parish for its clothing drive, and all other rummage to the PTA of the North End school in connection with its rummage sale, planned for the future.

Sally Brandon, Chairman

NOT SCHIZOPHRENIC —

These are harsh words when applied as in The Cooperator lead news story of last week. They have elicited rejoinder from the accused, all of which contributes little to the basic unity we must have if we are to achieve ownership of our City.

As one with knowledge of the facts, I can say The Cooperator was unduly concerned that the Board of GVHC had lost sight of its only legitimate objective, namely mutual purchase of Greenbelt for its residents. The EDITORS, however, had just enough information to make them break a story which was not only news, but which in their minds gave rise to serious misgivings as to the direction in which GVHC was moving. Had our positions been reversed, many of us would have reacted as they did.

It will serve no useful purpose here to argue details of the story or to refute certain misinterpretations or mis-statements—Better that the excitement and heat be directed to constructive ends. GVHC will now call a membership meeting. Mistakenly perhaps, but none-the-less sincerely, it has not done so because of the absence of specific information which would bring the members out. Past experience of GMHOC has certainly demonstrated that too many people were willing to let a few face the frustrating task of keeping the objective alive until PHA finally is in a position to take action under Public Law 60, 81st Cong. That time is near (regardless of how often we have thought so in the past).

The GMHOC and the GVHC Boards of Directors (the latter comprised of elected veteran members of the former) have continued to work closely together. While exploring the possibilities of financing through a local housing authority created by the City of Greenbelt, which, incidentally, is not an instrumentality of the Federal Government, the two Boards have made real progress toward assuring financing for a straight mutual purchase.

Let's have that meeting! If you do not have confidence in your present Veterans mutual leadership, change it, but don't abandon or jeopardize the mutual plan. You have an organization which can qualify all of us as a preference group under the law. The objective is worth our best effort. We have the individual and collective ability to do this job. Let's get on with it—with that unity of purpose which will not be denied.

Lucky Kids Win Lucky Books

Winners of the Lucky Books at the library were Joyce Pendleton of the Center school who took out the lucky book "Roger and the Fox" by Lavinia Davis, Joan Gramatte of the North End school who took out "Hustle and Bustle" by Louis Slobodkin, and John Moroney of Saint Hugh's, who was the only boy to have found a lucky book. He took out "Gigi in America" by Elizabeth Foster.

Beginning November 28 to December 12 the library will have on exhibit a display of books for Jewish Book Week arranged by David Berman of Washington and sponsored by the Greenbelt section of the National Council of Jewish Women.

— NOR SNAFU

In a rather presumptive effort to needle the GVHC board out of a supposed inaction, the rapier, in the hands of our local journalists, has become a two-edged sword.

The confidence of the people in The Cooperator and in the GVHC board, and the confidence of GVHC in The Cooperator have suffered a grievous blow. That confidence (insofar as it represents unified spirit and action) might have been our most valuable asset in the coming negotiations.

Greenbelt housing is not "snafu"—nor has the GVHC board failed to find a solution. It has explored many possibilities, it will continue to explore others in the best interests of the residents. Until such day as the sale of Greenbelt (other than to GVHC) is announced in a black-bordered Cooperator no such assumptions can be made.

Certainly not on the basis of transmitting information about a municipal housing authority to the city council. No one that I know of has suggested that a housing authority is as good as mutual housing. It is an alternative plan that should be studied, just as should every other conceivable plan. Incidentally, a city housing authority is not a federal agency.

Eight of sixteen people present were not members of either the GVHC board or the city council. That we should be censured for not passing along such information in an open meeting to avoid the possibility of rumors and the passage of misinformation comes as a decided surprise.

We are chagrined, in fact, that our motives are so impugned as to make us wonder whether a haphazard transmittal wouldn't have been better after all.

Since the inception of GVHC the elected board members of GMHOC have actively participated in every GVHC board meeting.

We have been painfully aware of the lack of news about housing activities but even now we have no new or positive facts to publish. We do not publish rumor or supposition, particularly if, as it easily can, it might cause difficulty in later relationships and negotiations.

A meeting of the membership is tentatively scheduled for Friday, December 9, 1949 in the community building.

Bruce Bowman, Secretary
Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corp.

Why We Give

By Dorothy Fleisher

(Ed. note: We reprint this week the following Community Chest plea first printed in The Cooperator in 1947.)

There is a maxim that "there is more joy in giving than in receiving." Happiness basically depends upon the home environment, which in turn is based upon the economic conditions in the home.

Our purpose in giving to the Community Chest is to assist the family during some difficult period to attain the necessary commodities so that the family may be able to retain a healthy physical and well-balanced mental attitude. Children are easily disturbed, particularly when the parents are ill, unemployed or incapable of giving their children the necessary attention. This normally leads to confusion and frustration.

In a well-balanced happy nation it is of the utmost necessity that people be properly fed, clothed, housed, and medically attended. Your small contribution is definitely instrumental in assisting the Community Chest to provide those in need with the means of retaining their self respect and position until such time as communal assistance is no longer required. The work of the Community Chest is not to be confused with the work of the County Welfare Board.

The spiritual satisfaction of the knowledge that one in need has been assisted by our contribution is all the compensation we could possibly desire.

300 Boxing Fans See Boy's Club Show

Approximately 300 fans turned out at the community building last Saturday night to witness the first of a series of boxing shows staged by the Greenbelt Boys' Club. The Berwyn Boys' Club furnished the opposition in the initial encounter. At the conclusion of the eight bouts Bob Dove, president of the Boys' Club sponsoring group, presented John Noone and his family with lifetime admission cards to local boys' club events. Mr. Noone will be remembered as the recent radio jackpot winner who donated one of his prizes, $1000 worth of boxing equipment, to the local club.

In the first bout of the evening, Arnold Prada decisioned Bobby Taylor in the 50-lb. class. In the 60-lb. contest, Bobby McLaughlin won over Dickie Taylor. Sonny Longnecker of Berwyn won the nod over Billy Andrusic of Greenbelt in the 65-lb. class. Buddy Freer and his Berwyn opponent, George Daniels, fought a draw in the 75-lb. clash and Fred Comings won a close decision over Teddy Havens as 90-lb. Charley Howey of Greenbelt outpointed Kenny Lauterback of the visiting team in a 95-lb. scrap. Fred Lauterback gained a TKO over Tish Myrick in the 115-lb. division. The final bout was a 3-round exhibition by Eddie Burton and Sonny Ruleman, both of Berwyn.

St. Hugh's Announces Turkey Winners

Winners in the turkey raffle sponsored by St. Hugh's Parents' Guild recently are Mrs. John P. McCoy, of 11-F Laurel Hill road and A. Todd of Washington, according to Ways and Means Committee chairman Al Long. Joan Sonnenburg, 14-W Hillside, won a turkey for selling the largest number of tickets for the raffle.

Donors of the turkeys were E. F. Zalesak of the Varsity Grill, Jim Porter, Norman Motors, and GCS, Mr. Long stated.

Winner Mrs. McCoy had a double reason for celebrating, it was learned. Her brother was, on the same day, elected mayor of Northampton, Massachusetts, after a battle in which a recount was necessary. It was his third and first successful try for the job.

Boys' Club Seniors Down Shamrocks

By Don McCollum

The Boys' Club senior team rang up its fifth straight victory of the year by downing the Riverdale Shamrocks, 20-18. The Shamrocks opened up fast with two touchdowns in the first quarter. Carl Gussio, Greenbelt end, went over on a pass in the second quarter for a score, and Bill O'Mahony converted the extra point, leaving the Seniors behind, 12-7, at the half.

The third quarter opened with a bang for the Seniors. With the Shamrocks deep in their own territory, Gussio fell on a fumble behind the Shamrocks' goal, putting the Greenbelters ahead 13-12.

In the fourth quarter, the Shamrocks came back hard to intercept a pass on the Seniors' 30-yard line. With the Shamrocks taking to the air, they went over for a touchdown to give them the lead once again. Hofstetter carrying, and drove up. The Seniors relied on line plunges, to the Shamrock's 7-yard line. With little time left, Hofstetter, fullback, plunged up to the 1-foot line. The time had run down to 15 seconds and Hofstetter, with few seconds left, went over for the winning tally.

Coach Walter R. Dean wishes to thank the team for its splendid performance this first half of the season. He commented that the line is the best he's had in his four years of coaching for Greenbelt.

The Seniors' line has had much opposition this year, and has shown a great performance. The Seniors, with their hard-hitting forward wall and fast backfield attack, have hope of going undefeated this season.

An apology is better than an explanation—and quicker.

Johnson-Melby

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Johnson, 39-L Ridge Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ellen, to Robert P. Melby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf S. Melby of Cedarburg, Wisconsin. The wedding has been set for June.

Miss Johnson attended grammar and high school here, graduating from Greenbelt High in 1948. She was active in athletics and was on the basketball team for three years. Since graduation she has been employed by the government. Mr. Melby is with the Navy as an airman attached to the Anacostia Naval Base.

Avoid Frozen Gas Lines

Condensation of moisture from the air on the inside walls of your gas tank is caused by sudden changes in temperature. WATER IN YOUR GASOLINE is the result of this condensation. This in turn causes FROZEN GAS LINES, and starting troubles on cold mornings.

SOLVENTS to disperse this water will prevent this trouble. Cold weather is here - Now is the time to add one of these products to your gas tank to insure starting on cold mornings this winter.

How to Live on $40 a month

It's easy! Eat less, live with your relatives and don't spend your money on luxuries!

Thousands of people will have to learn to live on $40 a month, more or less, when they reach age 65... because their monthly Social Security check will be smaller than they now expect.

How much will your S. S. check be when you reach 65? I can tell you. And I can also tell you how you can add another $50 or $100 to it every month at low cost. Just call
